

Slow Festival seeks to make a correction to any misinterpretation taken from an article written and placed in the EDGE edition 15 Dec 2013. Knysna Tourism is still in full support of Sedgefield's Slow Festival and will continue with its support of Slow Festival 2014 in terms of marketing of the festival and through their tourism offices though, in line with their future brand positioning and support structures, at a reduced budget. Knysna Tourism will do all they can to help with sourcing the additional funds needed.
